Nalani likes long dresses.

Nico likes bow ties.

No tuxes necessary

We will be on grass, so thin heels are not ideal

Wedding weekend activities

Our goal is to make our wedding a weekend affair. We look forward to spending time with you throughout the weekend following our wedding!

Leave us your email to get updates as details are finalized!

Travel & accomidations

A few suggestions on places to stay in when you come to visit!

We love Airbnb, and recommend it as a great option for your weekend in Boston (the Back Bay neighborhood is ideal)

The Westin is a highly convenient hotel option in the Back Bay neighborhood (shoutout to all you Starwood folks)

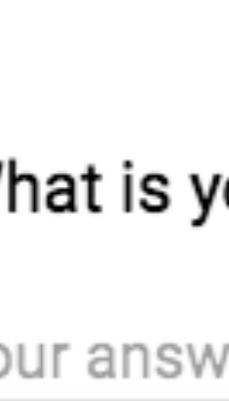

The Newbury Guest House is a quaint hotel right in the middle of the best part of the city (and our neighborhood)

The Logan Express Back Bay is the quickest and easiest option for getting from the airport into the city

Getting around in Boston

Our goal is for those from out of town to not need to rent a car; we would love for you to experience Boston the way we use it every day!

The "T" is Boston's subway system, and is an easy way to get around to most places you'd like to go within the city

Lyft, well, gives you a lift when you aren't in the mood to walk or take the T and is highly prevalent in Boston

Hubway is Boston's bikeshare program, and has inexpensive day passes for taking rides around the city

~Transporation details for the wedding itself will be provided closer to the date~
